Introduction

Dear Brother / Sister,

When many languages, in the course of time, is seen to be becoming extinct, it is seen that the spread and usability of the Arabic language is increasing. It is also a fact that the Arabic language is required to be learned by many job seekers in the Gulf countries.

This book is prepared to learn to speak the Arabic language at home and is designed to be learned in a leisurely manner. There is no instructions about pronunciations or grammar in this book. If you are interested to learn these, you could read the book 'An easy way to learn the Quran' (Malayalam version), a publication of the Trust of Education. The Arabic style used in this book is the style of Arabic spoken in Dubai and its neighboring regions. There might be difference in the style of speech in Arabic used in Saudi Arabia and so on.

This book is written in a form different from other books teaching to learn a language. The learning can be started in fun manner and later in a more serious way. Consulting people with more knowledge in the language and understanding from them would make the learning easier. We will publish the later parts of this book after hearing your views and opinions about this book.

Yours Lovingly
A. Abdul Salam
